WANT CONVENTION HALL.

Board of Trade Will Ask Congress for $50,000 Structure.
Determining to obtain from Congress an appropriation of $50,000 with which shall be constructed in Washington a convention hall, open to organizations throughout the United States for their annual meetings, the industrial committee of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon launched the movement, which is ultimately to result in the capital being the one convention city of the country. By the vote of the committee the matter will be urged by the board at the annual meeting of the board, to be held in November, and concerted action taken to place the bill before the two Houses of Congress.

This movement is along the line of several others urged upon the Board at various times. At the meeting yesterday afternoon letters were read requesting the favorable endorsement of the committee on a project involving the establishment in Washington of exhibition buildings, representing each State and foreign country. The holding in the city of a two weeks' national fair was also brought up. Both of these propositions, the Board considers too large to be undertaken at this time. They will, therefore, push only the convention hall appropriation at this time, holding the larger matters in abeyance.

Upon communications from the Masons Builders and the Builders' League of the District, the committee went on record as endorsing their open shop resolutions, although they made plain that in giving this endorsement, no discrimination against the labor organizations of the city was meant.

NAVY OFFICERS RETIRED.

Admiral Milton and Engineer White Reach Age Limit.
Rear Admiral John Milton, of Kentucky, and Civil Engineer U. S. G. White, of Ohio, were yesterday placed on the retired list of the navy, having reached the age limit.

Admiral Milton has served continuously since 1865, and was active during the war with Spain, having command of the Badger. He has served at the Naval Academy, in the Hydrographic Office at San Francisco, at the Naval War College, and as inspector of lightships on the Pacific coast. He reached the grade of rear admiral January 9, 1910, and has since been commandant of the naval training station at San Francisco.

Civil Engineer White entered the service in 1877, after serving as engineer in the regular army for seven years. He was recently on duty at the Navy Department.

The retirement of Admiral Milton will promote Capt. Albert Mertz to rear admiral, and Commander John H. Gibbons to captain, while Engineer White's retirement promotes Civil Engineer Frank O. Maxson to senior captain of the corps, and Civil Engineer Robert E. Peary to junior captain.

Taft Will Make Address.

Y. M. C. A. Opens Campaign in White House To-day.
President Taft will not only address the Y. M. C. A. Conference on World Expansion this morning, but will tender the use of the East Room of the White House for to-day's session. This courtesy marks the President's keen interest in all campaigns to advance Christian influence.

Among the delegates to the conference are John R. Mott, general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation; Fletcher S. Brockman, national general secretary of China and Korea, and Galen M. Fisher, national secretary of Japan.

The morning session will be held at 2:30 o'clock at the White House. President Taft will be the first speaker. The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

MAIL FRANKS TO GO.

Postmaster General Intends to Curtail Federal Privilege.
If the plans of Postmaster General Hitchcock are carried into effect the abuse of the franking privileges for government mail may be curtailed. Mr. Hitchcock intends to advocate the substitution of special official stamps and stamped envelopes for the various forms of the franking privilege now in use in the departments and by members of Congress.

The unrestricted manner in which the franking privilege is now being used has laid it open to serious abuses, according to the Postmaster General.

W. C. T. U. OPENS SESSION.
Mrs. Clinton Smith Urges Prohibition in District.
The thirty-sixth annual convention of the District W. C. T. U. was opened at McKendree M. E. Church yesterday morning. The convention was called to order by Mrs. Clinton Smith, president of the association.

After the reading of the minutes and reports from the different officers, an address of welcome was made by Rev. E. T. Mowbray, pastor of the church. Mrs. A. T. Higgins responded.

The afternoon session was devoted to routine business and an outline of the work planned for the coming year. Mrs. Smith made a speech in which she urged prohibition in Washington.

"Liquor conditions in Washington," said Mrs. Smith, "are rapidly growing worse. The liquor habit is spreading among our young boys, and is ruining a greater number of homes every year. Our only remedy is to secure prohibition, and the temperance women of the District are determined to keep up the fight until prohibition is won."

The afternoon session was presided over by Mrs. Jennie W. Robinson, vice president at large. The following committees were appointed to the national convention:

Credentials—Mrs. Charles P. Grandfield and Mrs. D. Clark.
Resolutions—Mrs. M. C. Westcott, chairman; Dr. Isabelle Minger, Mrs. M. C. Davis, Mrs. Nellie H. Butler, Mrs. J. H. Bovey, Mrs. J. A. Winger, Mrs. Margaret Lurie, Miss Emma Hunter, Mrs. S. E. Kaufman, Mrs. W. M. Manning, and Mrs. Edlin.

Parishes Name Delegates.
Holy Name Societies Arrange for Grand Street Parade.
As a crusade in the cause of clean streets, a great parade will be held by the United Holy Name Societies of Washington Sunday afternoon, November 6. It will be a splendid march through the main boulevards of the Capital, and will be representative of Maryland and Northern Virginia, as well as of this city.

Plans are now practically complete, as a meeting of the committee on arrangements in St. Joseph's parish house, last night, showed that few details remain to be disposed of. The following parishes will send delegations to the parade: St. Peter's, St. Joseph's, St. Dominic's, Holy Comforter, St. Cyril's, St. Vincent's, St. Margaret's, Holy Name, St. Matthew's, St. Martin's, St. Anthony's, Soldiers' Home, St. Ann's, St. Stephen's, Church of the Nativity, and St. John's of Forest Glen.

The parade will form in Capitol Square at 2:30 o'clock, marching down B to First street, thence to Pennsylvania avenue, to Seventeenth street, thence to the Monument. Here brief exercises will be held, and two addresses, one of a religious and the other of a patriotic nature, will be made.

The spiritual adviser is Rev. P. J. Meagher and the grand marshal P. J. Haligan. M. D. Schaefer is chairman of the committee on arrangements, and M. J. Driscoll, secretary. The other members are Andrew Betz, Leonard A. Curtis, P. J. Hannan, Clarence Donohue, Michael Shea, Thomas W. Short, Aiden Dillon, J. F. Gill, and John S. Doran. The next meeting of the committee of arrangements will be held in Holy Name Church Monday evening.

SCHOOLS INDOOR ATHLETIC LEAGUE

Physical Training Director to Form Association.

ALL MALE SCHOLARS ELIGIBLE

Basket-ball, Baseball, Track and Field Sports Will Be Embraced in List, and Interscholastic Schedules Arranged—Economy Must Be Practiced in Manual Training Schools.

Following the example set by other large cities, the board of education yesterday put its stamp of approval on the movement for the organization of a Public School Athletic League in the District.

E. B. Henderson, director of physical training, who brought the matter before the board, will have charge of the organization work which will be begun at once. Basketball, baseball, track and field sports will be embraced in the athletic curriculum and interscholastic schedules will be arranged for each branch. Each school will maintain an athletic association, which will select its representatives in the central league association.

All male scholars will be eligible to athletic membership, while teachers will form the regular membership. Honorary members will constitute those who contribute prizes and in other ways further the organization.

Schools Must Economize.
That the greatest economy must be practiced in the conduct of the manual training schools was evidenced at the board meeting yesterday by the report of the committee on ways and means.

There remains less than $6,000 of the $20,000 appropriation for the operation of the schools during the remainder of the fiscal year.

The water question at Congress Heights, Gardfield, and Stanton schools came before the board again in the form of reports on conditions from supervising principals in those divisions. At the Gardfield School the two pumps are practically worthless and the water is unfit to drink. Principal J. C. Walker reported. Conditions at other schools are somewhat improved, although the water is not considered absolutely pure.

The charges against Assistant Superintendent of Schools Bruce were brought in by a special committee, which reported that the allegations against the official were too vague to warrant any drastic step in changing the personnel of the school directors. Charles B. Walker, N. B. Marshall, and others signed the petition to the board asking Bruce's removal. The committee stated further that it is ready to receive any reports that will tend to increase the efficiency of the school system, but such suggestions were not specifically embodied in the petition.

Site to Cost $40,000.
Recommendations favoring the purchase of the Ballou property from J. I. Weiler were offered by the committee on sites. A petition against the purchase of this property, signed by 250 graduates of Howard University, was placed on file. The land is valued at $40,000, and covers 7,000 square feet.

Permission was granted Dr. George M. Kober to experiment with Supervising Principal Ely, of the fifth division, in the operation of open-air schools. One school room will be converted into the open-air school system by removing all windows.

Report of an accident in which Vanda Maravski, a pupil of the fifth grade of the Denison School, broke her shoulder blade was made by the principal. An iron swing in the playground broke and the child was struck in the back by a flying bar.

The Columbia Heights Citizens' Association reported that a committee will be appointed to represent that body at the laying of the corner stone of the new normal school in that section.

The following changes were approved by the board:

UTILITIES BOARD URGED.

Brightwood People Think the Commissioners Are Handicapped.

Citizens of Brightwood think the Commissioners have too much work to do. They will ask Congress to create a public utilities commission to supervise and control all public service corporations operating within the District.

A resolution to this effect was adopted at a meeting of the association last night. It was pointed out that the Commissioners are handicapped in their duties, and that an organization of experts would be of invaluable assistance. A copy of the resolutions was forwarded to the Federation of Citizens' Associations for its approval.

Howard Fisk, president of the Washington and Baltimore Transit Company, which is operating a line between Georgia avenue and Fourteenth street, said the cars would be running on schedule time in a few days.

Standing committees for the ensuing year were appointed.

MILK PRODUCERS TO BALK DISTRICT

Tired of Bickering with the Health Department.

MAY CARRY CASE INTO COURTS

However, District Dealers Will Appear Before Commissioners to-day and Make Full Statement of Conditions that Threaten Capital with Milk Famine in Near Future.

Reversing their previous resolve to fight, the milk producers of Maryland and Virginia will not appear at the Commissioners' hearing to-day on the question of extending the tuberculosis test to all cattle supplying Washington with the lacte fluid.

However, the milk dealers of the District will present vigorous arguments at the hearing, and will make a full statement of the conditions that now threaten the Capital with a milk famine. It is expected that, if the health department wins out in the controversy, the producers will carry the fight to the courts.

Officials of the Milk Producers' Association say they are tired of bickering with the health department, and intend to make their appeal to Congress and the courts, to test the right of the District authorities to exercise supervision over the farmers and dairymen supplying the District with milk.

Will Ignore Commissioners.
Attorneys for the milk producers say the District has no right to make conditions for farmers in neighboring States. They do not intend to recognize the jurisdiction of the Commissioners by appearing before them at the hearing to-day.

Among the scientists who will appear at the hearing to-day are the following: Dr. A. D. Melvin, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry; Dr. John R. Mohr, Chief of the Division of Pathology in the Bureau of Animal Industry; Dr. John F. Anderson, Assistant Director of the Hygienic Laboratory of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, and others.

Although producers and dealers promise to continue their fight on the health department, regardless of the outcome of the hearing to-day, it is stated that some producers intend to seek other markets for their products. Should the Commissioners decide that the tuberculosis test become effective at once, the producers will stop shipping milk here altogether.

Other markets will not be difficult to find, it is said.

Shortage in Baltimore.
The fact that there is a real milk shortage throughout this section of the country is now emphasized. Baltimore also is making an outcry about the scarcity of supply, and it is said a number of dairymen in Baltimore County are selling their cattle because of the expense of winter feeding. While the price of milk is 20 cents a gallon, delivered in the city, and higher than in previous years, it is asserted by the milkmen that the price should be 25 cents to afford the right profit.

One factor in the shortage is the scarcity of pasture which followed the drought. Farmers near Hagerstown report that the pastures are drying up and the cows have nothing to eat. They can scarcely make enough butter for their own use. As a result, the price of butter in Hagerstown has gone up to 35 cents a pound.

RATES CAN BE COLLECTED.

Interstate Commission Hands Down a Formal Order.
In a formal order handed down yesterday, the Interstate Commerce Commission construes the effective date of the fourth section of the railroad rate act of June 16 last, the long and short haul section.

The Commission decides that until February 11 all rates on file on August 17 providing for a month higher rate for a shorter than a longer haul, can be collected, and in addition carriers can make application for permission to install new rates, assessing a higher rate for a shorter than a longer haul, under certain circumstances.

The law recognizes exceptional circumstances under which there can be a lower rate to a more distant point than to an intermediate point, most of these circumstances being defined in the more distant point there is water competition.

WILLING TO PAY ALIMONY.

John K. Haywood Files Answer to Wife's Divorce Petition.
John Kerfoot Haywood, a clerk in the Department of Agriculture, yesterday filed answer to his wife's petition for an absolute divorce, declaring his willingness to pay her $25 a month alimony, but refusing to live with her, although that she accused him of acts of which he is not guilty.

Haywood is also willing to relinquish all claims on about $5,000 worth of household goods and a $1,000 interest he has in the home at 1221 Lamont street northwest.

Mrs. Haywood alleged that her husband had deserted her and their child, and named a co-respondent.

JOINS DAIRYMEN'S FIGHT.

Colored Personal Liberty League Opposes District Regulation.
The Colored Personal Liberty League has taken up the dairymen's fight against the regulations imposed by the District on milk dealers and have endorsed the stand of the milk dealers.

In a set of resolutions that they have forwarded to the Commissioners they set forth that the enforcement of the present law will work hardship upon 25,000 milk consumers in Washington.

SUES DOCTOR FOR $5,000.

Woman Alleges He Was Not in Waiting for Stork.

Mrs. A. C. Thomas has sued Dr. A. C. Merriam for $5,000. The suit is one of the most peculiar ever filed in the District Supreme Court, the point involved being whether a physician may be held responsible for not being in his office or his failure to leave a note where he can be found.

Mrs. Thomas states in her petition that Dr. Merriam was warned several weeks before April 1 last that the stork was hovering over the Thomas home, and she alleges that he should have held himself in readiness for the emergency.

Despite this warning, she alleges that it took members of her family three hours to locate the physician, and by the time he arrived at her home the procreating bird had performed its mission and departed.

COURT FAVORS HUSBAND.

Wife of Dr. Daniel W. Higgins Refused Temporary Alimony.

The application of Anna C. Higgins to compel her husband, Dr. Daniel W. Higgins, to pay her temporary alimony, pending the hearing of her suit for limited divorce, was yesterday refused by Justice Stafford.

Mrs. Higgins complained that her husband shut the door of his house on her. Dr. Higgins denied this, declaring he had asked her to return to his home provided she cease receiving the attention of a former boarder. Dr. Higgins said his wife would not accept the condition, hence his charge of desertion.
